Veritas Professional Services

Veritas Professional Services, including Consulting, Managed, and Education Services, advise and empower organizations to harness their information. Across the information management journey, Professional Services provides solutions to design, implement, operate, and optimize Veritas applications – all with the focus to help organizations maximize their Veritas investment and achieve business outcomes that matter.

Veritas Consulting Services

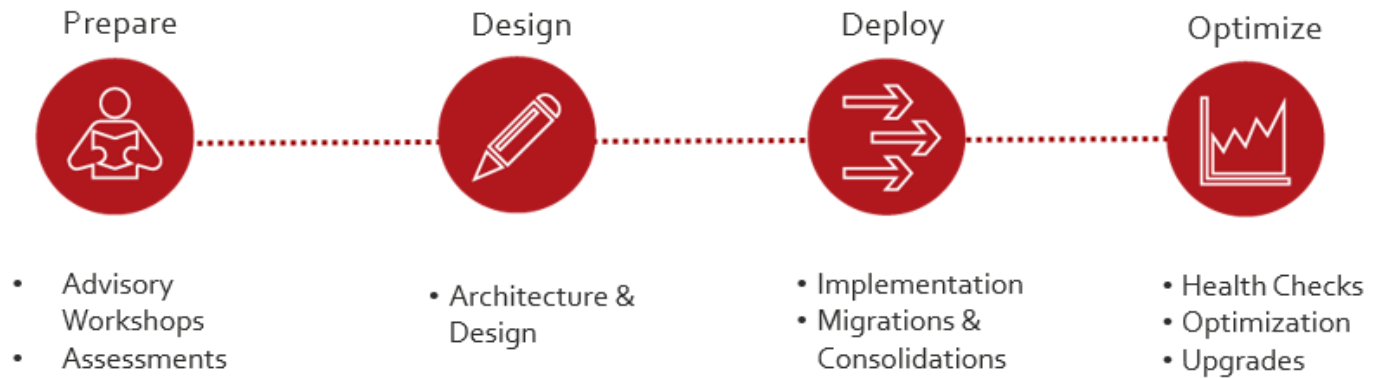

Organizations rely on information – housed across multiple environments including the cloud – to achieve their business goals. That reliance requires IT departments and environments to constantly evolve to meet expectations and ensure information is always available, compliant and relevant. Veritas Consulting Services helps provide essential 360 degree, multi-cloud approach to information management and empowers companies with powerful solutions.

Consulting Acumen

Spanning across the customer journey from prepare, design, deploy, through optimize – Veritas Consulting Services helps organizations realize information protection, availability and insight that’s critical to attain business goals. What path that journey takes is predicated on the individual needs of an organization.

Empowering the Customer Journey – Matching Customer Need

- Custom Engagements: Recognizing that one size does not fit all, Consulting Services offers custom consulting engagements that provide unique expertise and insight based on individual environments, business goals and strategic plans. These engagements enable Consulting Services the opportunity to apply a critical eye to the need at hand.

With broad expertise and deep knowledge in information management solution planning, architecture, deployment, and optimization, Veritas Consultants can help organizations meet their information management challenges quickly, efficiently, and cost-effectively via the path that makes the most sense for the organization.
